AUSTRALIAN TOUR 2010

FINAL SHOWS FOR BRISBANE & MELBOURNE

The incredible Lady Gaga has confirmed two new shows for her Australian Monster Ball tour!

2nd and final Brisbane show: Entertainment Centre – Saturday March 27

3rd and final Melbourne show: Rod Laver Arena – Friday April 9

Tickets on sale 9am Thursday February 25 through Ticketek

With her popularity exploding worldwide Lady Gaga has revealed a major upgrade of the concert presentation for her upcoming Australian tour.

The production, with which she has just completed her sold-out December/January US tour, has been replaced by a new design which Gaga unveils this week to her rabid UK audience.

The massively augmented presentation features unique staging and major video components.

It will be moved to Australia in two chartered 747 Jumbo freighter aircraft and then transported around the country on 15 forty-eight foot trucks, accompanying the touring party of more than 140 people!

The scale of the show's full production is now too demanding to be staged in some of the originally announced tour venues and as a result there will be changes to Lady Gaga's Australian tour itinerary.

The new production features a video wall which is 30 feet taller than the clearance height at Perth's Challenge Stadium, and the weight of the flown production equipment (in excess of 45,000 kilos) exceeds the structural capacity of the venue.

Accordingly it has become necessary to arrange a change of venue in Perth, with the two sold-out shows at Challenge Stadium on April 1 & 2 combined into one massive show on Thursday, April 1 at Burswood Dome. The change to Burswood Dome also enables the release of additional GA and reserved seat tickets, which will go on sale from 9am Thursday February 25, through Ticketek.

Canberra, Adelaide and Wollongong will undergo a change in show dates in order to allow enough time for the delivery and building of the new production in those venues.

In addition Brisbane and Melbourne gain an extra show, the original dates in those cities having sold out.
